THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

CIO Distortions

Washington, Feb. 14.—IT DOES seem that since the inauguration three months ago of the calculated effort to force submission of both industry and Government to its demands, the character of the CIO arguments, the absurdity of its accusations and the general quality of its propaganda would make it impossible for reasonably sensible persons to accept its claims or support its position.

TRUE, the CIO has great publicity advantages over the other side, but the stuff it has been putting out recently is so largely phony and unfounded that, however palatable it may be to the gullible masses, it is difficult to understand how it can fail to revolt any fairly informed person. The truth is that in its controversy with the General Motors and the United States Steel, the CIO has utilized its superior propaganda position to consistently distort the facts and misrepresent its opponents.

NORMALLY, that would seem a serious charge against any organization. It is not a serious charge against the CIO because there isn't even a pretense of being accurate or fair about its propaganda or about its propagandists. They are, unconsciously, determined to present the best case for themselves and the worst for industry with which they possibly can get by—regardless of the facts. With an easier and less costly access to the channels of communication, it is their shameless practice not only to denounce as false everything the other side puts out but to repeat their own false statements after they have been disproved. Unencumbered by ethics or standards, the CIO propagandists regard that as a perfectly sound policy and are rather contemptuous at the failure of industry to operate along the same lines.

EXAMPLES of CIO distortion are plentiful. In the General Motors strikes, the basic charge was that there is an "organized plot" upon the part of the automobile industry to "destroy organized labor." Over and over this was repeated. And then Ford and Chrysler signed up and settled with the union, leaving General Motors to fight alone. This seemed the complete answer to the "plot" charge, but it has not prevented it from being repeated and repeated again and again. A second example is the charge that United States Steel would receive under the existing tax law a huge refund as a result of the shutdown, United States Steel promptly answered that it would receive no refund at all, quoting the law and citing figures. Completely ignoring the figures and the reply, the CIO merely repeats the charge.

ANOTHER striking example is the CIO attitude toward the President. When Mr. Truman first made his fact-finding proposal Mr. Philip Murray and his publicity machine denounced it as a "vicious betrayal of labor." But when Mr. Truman's fact-finding board recommended an eighteen per cent increase and Mr. Truman approved, Mr. Murray

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shupe, Fountaineville, who yesterday observed their golden wedding anniversary, on Saturday evening were guests of honor at an open house and a buffet supper in celebration of the event at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Shupe, at Edison.

The marriage of the former Miss Elizabeth Quinby, a daughter of the late George and Josephine Quinby, Solebury, and Mr. Shupe, a son of the late Samuel and Charlotte Shupe, Carversville, was solemnized in Stockton, N. J., to which place they drove by horse and buggy, on February 13, 1896.

Mr. Shupe, who is 81 years old, and Mrs. Shupe, who is nine years his junior, began housekeeping in Solebury, where they resided several years. They moved later to Carversville, and still later to the Shupe's homestead at the intersection of the Durham and Landsville roads.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The tug strike that tied up New York Harbor for ten days and held the city under an eerie eighteen-hour paralysis is over. Last evening the men agreed to return to work and both sides will submit differences to a three-man arbitration board. Schools were ordered reopened, and fuel rationing until reserves are restored will be the only after-effect of the strike.

Federal Mediator Dewey intensified his efforts to win an agreement in the General Motors dispute and may go directly to company and union heads.

Civilian food consumption may set a per capita record in this country this year, the Department of Agriculture reported, while the rest of the world faced stocks 12 per cent below pre-war levels. British Foreign Secretary Bevin won UNO Assembly approval for "immediate and drastic" action to avert world famine.

The Security Council voted against any action in Indonesia, rejected an appeal for Albania's immediate admission into the UNO and cleared the slate for adjournment this week.

British Labor government won victory when the Commons voted repeal of the anti-general strike act. Royalist Yugoslavs on guard duty in German camps will be disbanded EDGELY, Feb. 14.—A meeting of Headley Manor Fire Co. building committee was held Monday at the residence of the president, Ralph Lincke.

The architect is preparing a prospective drawing of the new building. This will be presented, together with the floor plan, at a public meeting to be held on February 19th.

Committee member Fred Hibbs reported approximately 25 of the 49 service members have returned home, and are anxious to participate in the building fund drive.

COUNTY SCOUT PRES'T IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Rev. A. B. Davidson Urges
That More Boys Be Reached
By Program

BUILDS FOR MANHOOD

ANDALUSIA, Feb. 14.—The Rev. Alexander B. Davidson, Doylestown, president of Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, addressed members of Bensalem Rotary Club in King Hall Tuesday evening.

The clergyman informed that there have been 12,000,000 Boy Scouts since the movement began, with 2,000,000 members at present. He reminded that the Scout oath and law are now being emphasized due to the increase in juvenile delinquency. He stated that individuals who have had Scout training do not appear in courts. "If this is so, why can't the others be reached? If they are gotten into Scouting it appears that delinquency figures will be lowered." Rev. Mr. Davidson advocated sufficient financial and moral support of the Scout movement to reach boys that are now being misled.

He emphasized the fact that the Scout program had the advantage over other youth movements because its service does not cease when a boy reaches 16 years of age. He mentioned that an aviation group is starting soon in Doylestown, sponsored by a few young men returning from the army air force. Otto Grupp, Jr., a visitor, was congratulated upon the fact that his son has just been made an Eagle Scout. Other guests were Richard J. Graven and Theodore Staudenmeyer, Sr.

MUD AND SLIME

Political literature is being enriched by a monthly newspaper entitled "The Democrat," which is the official publication of the Democratic National Committee.

"Enriched" is the proper word; for the enrichment bears a strong resemblance to the manure with which a flowerbed is enriched.

The newspaper reveals in striking fashion the depths to which is sinking the Democratic Party, which has listed among its spokesmen some of the most eloquent (even though unsound) orators of American history.

Men like Thomas Jefferson, President Cleveland, William Jennings Bryan and Woodrow Wilson would be amazed to see the sorry state to which public argument has been reduced by their party's present leadership.

The publication is blatant, inaccurate, hysterical; a study in demagoguery. Hatred, mudslinging, misrepresentation, personalities and deliberate fraud are its themes.

The language is that careful approximation of gutter-talk with which high-hat New Deal "thinkers" talk down to their listeners—whom they apparently assume to have less than eighth-grade mentality.

The idiom is presumably that of Democratic Chairman Hannegan and PAC Boss Sidney Hillman.

The contents of the periodical are quite similar to those of "throwaway" newspapers sometimes introduced into political campaigns during closing days; but the startling difference is that the authors of most such scurrilous sheets carefully hide their identity, while this counterpart boldly boasts that it is the "official" Democratic paper.

The Democratic Party has historic precedence, of which it is not always proud, for the political methods implied by ranting and mendacious publications such as this.

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS GIVEN A SENTENCE

20 Days To Two Years In
Co. Prison Imposed On A Philadelphian

ARRESTED IN BUCKS

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 14.—A sentence of from 30 days to two years in Bucks Co. prison was imposed on Joseph Benson, N. Third street, Philadelphia, when he appeared in Bucks Co. Court on Tuesday. Sentence was pronounced by Judge Calvin S. Boyer.

This is the second time Benson was in a court of justice on a charge of driving his automobile while under influence of intoxicating liquor.

Under this sentence, Benson will have to apply to the state board of pardons for a parole, under the existing laws.

Benson was arrested by Trooper Harris, of the Doylestown sub-station of state police on the Old York Road in Doylestown township, after his car had run into a ditch. No one was injured in the accident.

This was the first case that came up at the opening of the February term of Bucks county criminal court.

President Judge Hiram H. Keller, who charged the Grand Jury, appointed Theodore A. Staudenmeyer, State health law sanitarian for lower Bucks county, as foreman. There are 15 continued cases for trial at the February term and 34 new cases on the list.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . . .

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Bob Hannegan is annoyed by rumors that Mr. Truman hopes to get out by 1949 and make a new start in life.

The party is not accustomed to men who say "Oh I wouldn't think of taking more than one term."

It's possible that harassed Harry would want to quit. . . . After all his previous experience was with white shirts . . . not hair shirts.

Mayor O'Dwyer of New York has, shown the President how a crisis should be handled. If anyone disrupts normal life . . . complete the job.

If tug boats were enemy cruisers they couldn't tie up the city any tighter or easier.

But the Mayor fixed that. . . . He shut down the city.

He acted with the same presence of mind as the man who saw a runaway horse headed for a plate glass window. Quick as a flash, the man ran six blocks and told a glazer.

Stand by for further crises. . . . They're getting better all the time.

NAME PENNA. SALT CO. DEFENDANT IN SUIT

Columbia C. C. Asks Damages of $35,470 for Alleged Fume Damage

"163 TREES KILLED"

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company at Edgington today was named defendant in a suit filed in Philadelphia Common Pleas Court by counsel for the Columbia County Club.

The club asked $35,470 damages allegedly caused to its buildings and grounds on the west bank of the Delaware River in Edgington. In their suit, the club's attorneys charged that their property, grounds and shrubbery had been affected by fumes from a chemical plant owned by the Salt Company.

As a result, the Columbia Club asserted, windows were smeared; paint on the buildings cracked; 163 trees killed; eight acres of lawn ruined, and six "Victory" gardens destroyed. The salt firm was accused of negligence in allowing these conditions to develop.

The club is located at Edgington, Bucks county, near the Cornwells Heights plant of the defendant. In the statement of claim it was charged the company negligently permitted gas and smoke to come into contact with the club's property, gardens, soil and trees.

It was charged the damages occurred in 1944 and 1945 during the company's manufacture of hydrofluoric acid, sulphuric acid, cryolite and "other noxious and poisonous chemicals."

Cryolite is used in the manufacture of aluminum alloys for warplanes. The Cornwells Heights plant was one of the proposed targets during the war for German saboteurs put ashore from a Nazi submarine. They were arrested before reaching their objectives.

Following a buffet supper, games were enjoyed.

Capt. Booz, who was last stationed at Fort Myers, Fla., was presented with a purse.

The affair also celebrated the 42nd wedding anniversary of Oscar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Booz.

Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Repella, Miss Viola Monaco, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker, Edgely; Mrs. Leslie Crawn and son Frank, Fallsington; William Milnor, Mr. and Mrs. William Milnor, Jr., and children, Charles, David and Jane Milnor; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Simon and children, Alice Mae and Ruth Ann, Bath Road; Mr. and Mrs. James M. NEW AIR ERA

The transcontinental air speed record has been broken again, and, as seems to be the custom these days, by a jet-propelled plane. The record now stands at 4 hours, 13 minutes and 26 seconds for the 2,470 miles from Long Beach, California, to New York.

Three Lockheed P-80 Shooting Star fighter planes made the flight. One equipped with special gas tanks, made the trip non-stop in the record time. The others stopped once to refuel and still turned in times of approximately four and one-half hours for the distance.

Although no attempt was made at a top-speed record during the flights, the pilot of the non-stop P-80 said his top speed was approximately 600 miles per hour, or only 30 miles less than the speed of sound at the height at which he flew. This top speed is considerably higher than the 600 miles an hour recently marked up by a British jet-propelled fighter plane in a special speed test.

But more important than the indication that the P-80 can out-fly the British plane is the implication for air transport of the future. If a P-80 can cross the continent in less than five hours, then transport planes of the future can do the same. Their power plants undoubtedly will be jet-propulsion engines.

Designers have been working on such plans for some time. In two years these plans will be translated into actual achievement in the air. This is a great age of aerial engineering to be watching. Propeller planes for speed transportation are nearing obsolescence. The age of jet and gas turbine is just starting.

FEET ON THE GROUND

The way of the transgressor is hard, but the way of the bobby-soxer, however soft, is toward flat feet. This admonition comes from Dr. Earl C. Elkins of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minnesota. Forecasting that the bobby-soxer of today is the flat-footed wife of tomorrow, Dr. Elkins said:

"Moccasins, sandals and the like are as bad for girls as the too-high heels our mothers used to wear."

Although he predicted that bobby-soxers' arches would pancake and leave them with "sled-runners for feet," Dr. Elkins conceded that in the Second World War, the great number of men who were accepted for service despite their flat feet, surprisingly showed how they could get over the ground.

The prospect of developing flat feet is not likely to give any bobby-soxer pause. Conceivably on their own admission, more than one bobby-soxer would rather die than forego the regulation down-to-earth type of footwear, whatever the physical consequences of wearing it. After all, some of the scuff variations have heels of a sort. Thus Dr. Elkins' implication that the youthful arch lacks the resiliency or bounce to take downtrain in stride is not entirely persuasive.

and his aides eagerly lined up behind the President and have been beating the company for "defying the Government." If Mr. Truman had not created his fact-finding board and endorsed the eighteen per cent increase (which is more than they expected to get when they started their strike) it is conceded the union would have no chance at all of getting any large increase either in this or the steel strike. Yet, a few days ago Mr. Thomas, of the CIO Automobile Workers Union, went before a Senate committee, denounced members of Congress as "old fuddy duddies" and branded Mr. Truman, who saved his union from defeat, as "weak." This is a sample of union gratitude which politicians of both parties might well take to heart.

Also, though the language of its contracts with the General Motors and United States Steel do not permit of even a reasonable doubt that both strikes violate the existing contracts, the CIO leaders blithely ignore the charge and continue to assert that the companies, acting in bad faith, are out to "destroy organized labor." Actually, there is not on record any campaign publicity of such consistent disregard for the truth and such wholehearted misrepresentation of the situation. The appeal is entirely to the emotions, through sensational allegations which are continued with unabated enthusiasm long after they have been refuted. Through the intervention on their behalf of President Truman (whose help they accept but whom they still ungratefully berate) the CIO has averted defeat. The ultimate outcome, of course, will be a gain in wages for the workers, increased prices for the companies, and the public paying the bill and inflation brought a little closer. But the methods and manners of the CIO leadership, as revealed in these strikes, can hardly fail to damage it in public esteem—and in political circles. General confidence, never very high, has been lessened in the intelligence and character of the labor leadership. And the tolerance of the great unorganized majority has been worn a little thinner.

Aaron Burr, the first man to try to buy the American presidency with political bribes, was also the man who taught Tammany Hall most of what it still knows of political corruption and pressure; he is one Democrat who probably would smile with approval at the current display of vulgarity.

Andrew Jackson used language which, stripped of his habitual profanity, would be not particularly unlike that which marks Mr. Hannegan's publication. President Jackson (whose birthday is the major occasion for Democratic political macing of public employees) is quoted on the front page of the February issue; but the quotation used is not that which most influences Democratic thinking—the "to the victor belongs the spoils" phrase with which Jackson defended his reliance on patronage.

The one concession to the normal decencies of national politics is a quotation, also on the first page, from President Truman.

Presumably because the words are almost ludicrously out of harmony with the tone of the publication itself, the President's lines are printed in painfully small print. They are a plea to the American people to "conduct themselves in a way to foster mutual respect and good will."

But neither mutual respect nor good will is fostered by the Hannegan newspaper. Directly beneath the President's words appears a violent and distorted article discussing a recent letter circulated by Ernest T. Weir.

The editors make no attempt to answer the points made by Mr. Weir, the principal one of which is that when a party in national power devotes the energies of the whole administration to propagandizing itself, the American people themselves are apt to be deprived of their proper voice in their own government.

Instead, Mr. Weir is demolished, to the entire satisfaction of the writers at least, by screaming assertions of two facts which almost everyone knows and which have nothing to do with his argument: No. 1, Mr. Weir is wealthy; No. 2, Mr. Weir is a Republican.

By hop-skip-and-jump logic, these facts are presented as proof of the bald assertion by the newspaper that "Big Money is out to capture Washington" and would annul all laws passed in the last twelve years. "Let the Rich Rule," is GOF Cry," says the big-type headline.

Now, this is not Democratic Party doctrine. The Democratic Party has had many men of wealth. President Roosevelt himself was far from being a pauper; the present State Department is a Rich Man's Club. Newspapers have been full recently of the misadventures of a wealthy man named Pauley, who in effect is accused of offering the Democratic National Committee a contribution of $300,000 for some slippery oil deals.

Wealth is no offense from the Democratic point of view—if it "cooperates." Neither is Republicanism any bar.

Republicans have always been welcomed into the Democratic Party with open arms, whenever any have joined.

The doctrine is out-and-out Communism; the same old "labor vs. capital" scarecrow which has frightened so many foreign peoples into disaster and slavery and debasement; and which may yet be the ruin of this nation.

Regrettably, there are many signs that the periodical is setting the theme song for the coming campaigns for Congress. The themes are mud, slime, and Communism. Will the American people dance to such a tune?

THE ONLY TUNE HE KNOWS

KNOW YOUR STATE

During the war years when Pennsylvania was producing more than 31 per cent of all the Nation's steel and coal and war materials to a total of 15 billion dollars, the State's farmers increased the land under cultivation more than 788,000 acres, and the number of farms increased by more than 9,000 as compared with 1940. This was done in spite of the fact that some 280,000 young men and women were drawn from Pennsylvania's rural population to serve in the armed forces.

Only two other states in the Nation record a larger number of counties showing more farms and more acreage in 1945 than were reported in 1940.

With 15,382,360 acres of farm land shown by the Preliminary Report of the 1945 Census of Agriculture, Pennsylvania has a larger farm acreage than all six of the New England States combined, and in the number of its farms, 178,399, it exceeds New England by 11,009.

Since Pennsylvania with all its great industries has the second largest rural population in the United States, this record of enterprise and industry by the State's farmers through the years of war land shown by the Preliminary Report of the 1945 Census of Agriculture, Pennsylvania has a larger

URGE BUILDING UP OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Bucks Co. Sabbath School
Ass'n Cooperates With State Organization

STRESS IMPORTANCE

The Bucks County Sabbath School Association in co-operation with the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association is sending out a "summons" to the Sunday Schools of Bucks County to observe in a special way the week of February 17-24 as "Build Your Sunday School Week."

Between 1910 and 1940 the percentage of population in Pennsylvania's Sunday Schools declined from 24.4 to 21.6, the association officials state. About one person in four is a member of some Sunday School in Pennsylvania, and only about 25 per cent of Bucks County's population is enrolled in a Sunday School. There are 155 Sunday Schools in Bucks County with a total membership of 24,490 persons. Therefore, the Sunday School leaders of the county are urged to adopt a specific plan of action during "Build Your Sunday School Week" to win others to Christ, the Church and the Sunday School.

J. Edgar Hoover, America's number one G-Man says: "Of course, I believe in the Sunday School. Crime among youth would become practically negligible if the young people of America attended Sunday School regularly during their formative years."

MEALS AT HOLIDAYS CAN BE VERY FESTIVE, MINUS THE CHERRIES

By Sara Jane Reish
(Assistant Home Economics Representative)

February is the month of birthdays and it's also the month that reminds us of cherries. But with cherries on the scarcity list this year we cannot have all of our favorite cherry dishes.

Homemakers who are fortunate to have a few canned or frozen cherries might serve cherry sun-dae. This makes a few cherries go a long way and still adds that festive note to the meal.

February's color scheme of red and white may be carried out though there are no cherries. Raspberries in a gelatin dessert or canned pears colored with red cinnamon candies for a salad are possibilities. Cookies made in timely designs may be given a little festive decoration. When served with fresh, canned, or frozen fruit, they make an extra special dessert.

A molded jelly roll makes a colorful dessert. Here's a suggestion for making it:

1 cup boiling water
1 box raspberry gelatin
1 cup raspberry juice
1 pint or 1 No. 2 can raspberries, drained
1½ cups cream, whipped
1 jelly roll with red jelly
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and raspberry juice. Set aside to cool and thicken. Fold berries into whipped cream and add to thickened gelatin mixture. Line a mold with wax paper, then with half-inch slices of jelly roll. Pour in gelatin and cream mixture and chill 4 to 6 hours in refrigerator or other cold place. Turn out on platter. Some of the whipped cream and a few berries may be saved for garnish.

For an easy and attractive salad, take a quart of canned pears. Drain, and to the sirup add a quarter pound of red cinnamon candies. Heat slightly to dissolve candies, then pour over pears. Put pears in refrigerator and leave until they are a deep red color. This takes about 12 hours. When ready to use, drain pears, arrange on salad greens, and fill centers of pears with cream cheese. Serve with mayonnaise if desired.

KITCHEN HINTS

Grated cheese on baked potatoes, vegetables and added to sauces gives an extra tang and deliciousness to foods. By saving and drying scraps of all sharp cheeses, you'll always have some to grate into cooked foods.

Here's another way to get your youngster to drink more milk. Make him delicious fruit sodas by mixing canned fruit syrups with milk. Children love it and it's so good for them. Good idea for children's parties, too.

Still not satisfied with the cuts of meat your butcher gives you? Well learn to give them tender hearts yourself — by becoming adroit in the use of a pinch of baking soda — a teaspoon of vinegar or half a cup of wine in your skillet, or "massaged" into the meat before it reaches the range.

What to do with left-over pieces of cake is no problem at all! Pop

Principal speaker at the opening of the new plant of the Bristol Processing Corporation, division of Mottly Eltington, Inc., on February 12, was former United States Senator from Pennsylvania, Joseph R. them into the oven to toast, then serve immediately with a hot sauce over them and you're in for a delicious taste-treat!

A good idea for storing meats and fish is to place them in the freezing unit of your refrigerator. They'll stay fresh and wholesome, this way, and there'll be no unpleasant odor to taint your other foods.

Believe it or not, but your family will love a dinner made from left-over fish! The secret of this one-dish meal is to mince the fish with rice, green peppers and carrots, bake and serve piping hot in your casserole.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

HEART-WARMING—a regular afternoon tea hour! A 4 oz. cup lifts the heart and the body, renews the mind. Recently I had my most thrilling cup of the beverage — "Constant Comment" — a fragrant full-bodied mixture of choice black Ceylon teas, delicate spice, plus heavy, only orange flavoring. A little goes a long way — three-quarters of a teaspoon to a six-cup pot. 162 cups to a 75c jar. Don't spoil with cream — use a lemon or orange slice, sugar or honey. Serve hot or iced. Nothing like it in aroma or taste. Perfect for company or gifting and unequalled as one's secret sin! Chestnut St. Food Shop of the Snellenburg store. (1st fl.)

I'VE TOLD YOU about the "Budget Bar" in the second floor Main Millinery Dept. of the Snellenburg Store. Well, this excellent place is now having a very satisfying spring showing. The values for such designs and felts at the price are worth making a shopping trip to see. Prices are but $3, $3.75, $5. You'll add to the heretofore a large or small. You'll find some new flowered half-bonnets and a little "bouquet" types, not to speak of the less dressy Scotties, Robin Hoods, etc., etc. There are some gray flannel tweeds for wear with suits, smart blacks and navies, exciting Kellys, reds, golds, pouders, dusties, aquas, etc. (2nd fl.)

MODEL OF YOU! A dress form the exact duplicate of your own body means that you can fit new dresses or alter ready-made ones to your own queen's taste! And you can make your own dress-form of cloth and gummed tape for the surprisingly small sum of $1 for materials complete! When made—and it's fun—mount the form on a broomstick or similar piece adjusting to your own height. Christen it "Mimi" and put the old girl in the closet until you need her! This is really a shopping find. Look it up—the "Jiffy Form"—in the Snellenburg Notions Dept. It's a popular item. (1st fl.)

YOUR FIGURE will require excellent molding to look well in Spring clothes. I suggest one of the good "Bonita" exclusives, a foundation garment priced at only $6.50, carried by the Snellenburg store. Each foundation in this group is boned in front for flatness and has side-talon closing. Busts are daintily net trimmed. Sizes 34 to 38. In case you know anyone with a really heavy figure, this shop has an enviable reputation for well designed larger sizes. (2nd fl.)

PASTEL PLAIDS—graceful skirts, pleated back and front, novelty belt trims, 100% wool. Misses' sizes, 24 to 30 waist-measures. Find these pretty "ice-creams" in the Snellenburg Sportswear Dept. (2nd fl.)

YOUNG & OLD can find thrilling amusements to be purchased in the Snellenburg "Toy-town." Children first—a make-believe black plastic telephone, almost an exact duplicate of a real one, even to spinning, click dial and numerals! Girls and boys adore 'em. $1.09—about half usual price for such a toy. For adults only—a $1 box of four different games, each duplicated 8 times. Reason? Each game is touched off with a lighted cigarette and a fresh one is required each time. All are played by two or as many people as you please. Grand for parties! Box includes golf, races, poker, roulette. (4th fl.)

WHEN THEY WALK you'll want a darling shoe that meets all practical requirements as well. Let me name you a honey—the "Toddler-Moc." It's not a new model, but has been distressingly difficult to obtain. The Snellenburg Shoe Dept. is proud to have one of the first shipments. The "Toddler-Moc" has, as you may suppose, modified moccasin lines. It comes in good white elkakin cowhide or genuine white buckskin, in sizes 1 to 4. High and laced, of course. Soles of flexible hard leather for good "understanding." If ordered by mail, send size of previous shoe or have baby stand on paper and draw outline of the cunning foot! $3.45 a pair. (1st fl.)

GIRLS 7 to 14 are voicing excited approval of the new spring coats being shown in the Girls' Dept. of the Snellenburg Store. I echo their enthusiasm. The new coat group ranges in price from $11.29 to $19.95. I was particularly taken with a little fitted, double-breasted model in 100% wool suede cloth. Grace is incorporated by shirring of the back and a back belt. Whole is highlighted by good pearl buttons. The girls may have a choice of coral, maize yellow, and powder blue. (2nd fl.)

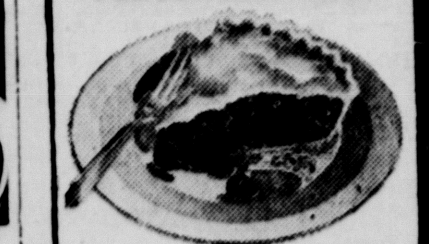

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you! Faithfully, FAITH.

FASHION PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.
(Famous make-up advisor to the screen stars now writing for INS)
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4—(INS)—In considering feminine facial features, the ears are usually related to the status of being unworthy of attention. This attitude is not a safe one from the standpoint of beautification and glamour, for the ears can be as important to the general effect of a woman's appearance as the nose, the cheeks, or the lips.

However, ears require practically no make-up attention unless they have a skin surface which is oily and shiny, in which case this sheen should be dulled with a light coating of face powder. Do not apply Pan-Cake Make-up to the ears in their entirety because it is practically impossible to command an even surface of application.

Just apply such make-up to a point where the ears actually begin, and then powder.

The appearance importance of the ears has to be considered almost exclusively from the angle of how these features are displayed, concealed, or partially concealed, by arrangement of the hair.

The first point which should be considered is whether the ears are attractive or not. If they are, full advantage may be taken of any hair styles which leave them revealed. But if they are not so attractive, hair-dos which will reveal the ears should be avoided altogether, or at least modified to partially conceal such unattractiveness.

It is much better to keep ears which are much too large, or which stick out much too prominently, under the flattering cover of carefully arranged strands of hair than it is to expose them to general gaze, even if such concealment does interfere with your favoring a hair-do which happens to be the most stylish of the moment.

It is very important that you consider all the facts just presented in the light of how they may apply to you, because the 1946 hair styling trend is definitely toward up-dos and short bobs, and both coiffure themes are going to expose a lot of feminine ears which shouldn't be revealed.

So don't be in too much of a hurry to take up any hair-styles, such as the ones mentioned, unless you are very sure that your exposed ears are not going to detract from the attractiveness of an otherwise altogether good-looking appearance.

If you have any doubts about the looks of your ears, either skip such revealing hair-dos altogether, or modify them so they will partially shield the ears from view.

CHILDREN CAN BE TAUGHT THE SOCIAL GRACES AT PARTIES

By Sara Jane Reish
(Assistant Home Economics Representative)

February is the month with special days that suggest parties for children. Mothers may want to give a Lincoln's birthday party, a St. Valentine's day party, or a Washington's birthday party. All these suggest their own color scheme and decorations.

Parties are opportunities for children to have the joy of doing things with and for others. Simple social graces can be learned and practiced at parties.

A party should be fun for all. Plan it simply and let the children make as much of the preparation as possible. That way it seems more like their own. The children can write the invitations if given a little adult help in wording. An invitation might say:

"Dear Jane,

Will you come to my house on February 14 for a St. Valentine's Day party, from four until six o'clock? Please let me know if you can come.

Your friend,"
The invitation may be written on a heart or card with some sticker or other crayon decoration. For parties on other special days, use appropriate symbols and decorations. Let the children plan the games and make the decorations. Often some of the refreshments may be made long enough in advance so children can help with them.

A box of "put-together-yourself" valentines is fun. For a Washington's birthday party, hide paper axes and cherry trees separately about the house and have each child find a pair. A simple stunt that the child could do might be written on each axe and tree.

Tasty Baking Are Made With Your Saved Fats

Although fats and oils have been removed from rationing in the United States, there is still a distinct shortage of these foods for meeting the needs of the world as a whole. Moreover, inedible fats are needed for the manufacture of soap and other products—so the government is still urging homemakers to turn in salvaged fat to their meat markets.

Under these circumstances, it is up to every homemaker to make wise use of all the fats and oils that she buys. She can also help by saving the fat drippings from bacon, sausage, and all kinds of roasts and broiled meats—and by rendering the fat trimmings from cooked and uncooked meats.

These saved and rendered fats should be strained through cloth and cooled at room temperature, then stored in the refrigerator in a covered container.

Although many homemakers are not accustomed to using kitchen rendered fats and drippings for shortening baked foods—they may be used with excellent results. The following recipes are suggested by Jessie Alice Chino, home economist.

Spice Cake

In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion. Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape; incline thine ear unto me, and save me. Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress. Amen.

The results of tonight's games of the Bristol Youth League is bound to change the standing of the circuit and practically decide which teams will get into the playoffs.

In the first game, Franklin meets the Catholic Boys' Club while in the second tilt, the Ramblers will meet the Celtics.

The Catholic Boys are holding on to fourth place (the final playoff spot) by a full game with both the Ramblers and the Celtics trailing. Should the Celtics lose to the Franklin team it will increase the Franks' margin on first place and at the same time drop the Catholic Boys into a deadweight with the winner of the Celtics-Ramblers' game for fourth place.

The entire four teams are determined to put their full strength on the floor. The league-leading Franklin club is expected to have several new players in its line-up.

Immediately following the games, dancing will be held to the tunes of a recording machine. An admission will be charged to the games but club membership cards will be honored at the door.

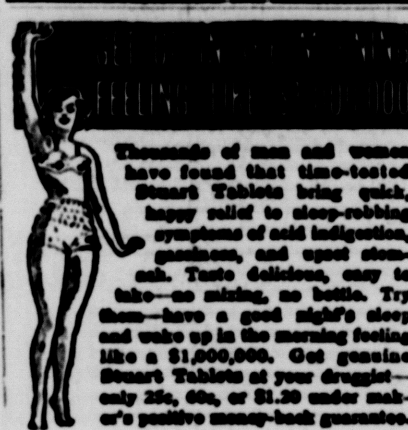

SAVING GRACE

If you have a delicate dolly or piece of clothing with a hard-to-mend tear in it, try "patching" it with transparent tape pressing a piece to both sides of the article. When you wash it, the tape may stay on—but it's little trouble to apply fresh patches should it come off. The tape comes in many colors.

Wondering whether to throw out the old kitchen chairs, the worn card table? Don't! Just saw the legs in half, enamel brightly and your child has an attractive wonderful play table and chair set.

Graceful table—disgraceful top? Don't junk it. Glamorize it with linoleum cut to exact fit, and waxed to a high lustre. Use a solid color, or see how artistic you can be making a border or central motif in contrasting color. Ideal for coffee and dining tables, for mantles and tot's desks.

Those odds and ends of pretty prints and bright colored fabrics in your sewing bag can be turned into the most stunning bow ties—not only for the bobby soxers (male and female) in your family—but for Dad himself. Make the kind that are permanent bows—or easier still, let them tie their own.

That word "naturally" means something...as you'll discover with your first taste of Gretz Beer. You see, Gretz is made the old-fashioned way...slowly...naturally. And what a beer! Next time you get beer, get Gretz.
